

Go Ashokh Menon

Senior Consultant

Go Ashokh brings more than thirty years of experience in sales, operational leadership, facilitation and entrepreneurship to Erevna Leadership.

He firmly believes all organizations have the capability to design their own effective organizational culture that creates a safe environment to allow people's best work to be realized. As such, he works with leaders in organizations to adopt a people centered mindset to engage and inspire people.

Certified Trainer

Go Ashokh is a Master Facilitator for the People Centred Implementation®-(PCI) suite of workshops based on 20 years of change management research. He is also a Master Facilitator for Driving a High-Performance Culture Workshop, based on the self-determination theory research that was popularized by Daniel H Pink in his bestselling book Drive. He is a Certified Trainer in Authentic Leadership Conversations, Crucial Conversations® and Influencer Training®. He is also a Certified Practitioner in Kirkpatrick Bronze Level.

He has extensive experience teaching these critical skills to leaders in various organizations within the Asia Pacific Region.

Facilitation Approach

Ashokh believes that wisdom lies within all individuals and he shares ideas, facilitates and coaches them to uncover the best versions of themselves. He is a "change agent" who is focused on creating high performance agile teams to drive sustainable and impactful changes to their businesses.

Education

Ashokh graduated with a Bachelor of Business in Financial Planning from the Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology. He holds an Advanced Certificate in Training and Assessment.

"The workshop that Go Ashokh facilitated for the NETSCOUT APAC Human Resource team not only accomplished the goal of engaging a geographically dispersed group but also helped the team strengthen its ability in understanding how to partner with the business to motivate an ever growing millennium workforce. His workshops inspires learning and adds value in a pragmatic way."
